Dean, Academic Courses

No.DAC/B2/2019

Dear Students:

Congratulations.

I welcome you to IIT Madras ranked # 1 by NIRF for four consecutive years (www.nirfindia.org), and to its pleasant and intellectually stimulating academic environment. You will be glad to know that your batch will experience the newly designed curriculum, the details of which along with the flexibility it provides will be presented to you during the orientation session on the 23rd July 2019. Please join us for the Diamond Jubilee celebration of IIT Madras.

I wish to bring to your attention the following:

i) Mandatory exemption to CS1100 (Introduction to Programming) Course:

Many of the students admitted to the B.Tech/DD programme would have developed proficiency in computer programming by opting for Computer Science stream in their 11th and 12th standards or through personal initiative. Others would have opted for Biology or similar such streams.

The new B.Tech/Dual degree curriculum provides mandatory exemption to "Introduction to Programming" course, offered in the first year, for those who have taken Computer Science subject in their 12th standard (or equivalent) examination and who have obtained 80% (or equivalent) marks in this subject. These students will have the flexibility of taking any other elective of their choice to earn 12 credits in this or a later semester.

ii) English Diagnostics Test

As you may be aware, English is the medium of instruction and examination here, just as it is at other educational institutions offering professional courses. Students are expected to have a certain level of proficiency in English so that they can understand lectures, communicate with fellow students and others, and engage in regular academic pursuits.

To identify students in need of a basic level course in English, an online Diagnostic Test will be conducted on 26th July 2019 (Friday). It is a compulsory test for all those joining the B.Tech./Dual Degree Programme.

Students in need of basic level in English will be identified and given a suitable course in the July-Nov. 2019 semester itself. All identified students will be expected to attend all classes and pass the end-semester examination of this zero level, non-credit English course so that they can understand and assimilate courses offered in the subsequent semesters. The Diagnostic Test will include tests of grammar, vocabulary and reading.

With warm regards

Sincerely yours,

(V JAGADEESHKUMAR)

Greetings from ChES!!

Hearty congratulations for making it into this prestigious institute!!

We cordially welcome you to the Department of Chemical Engineering, IITM on behalf of the Chemical Engineering Society!

ChES, formed in 2008, stands as the face of our department in the institute. Quite recently, ChES contributed to the setting up of student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers (AlChE). With 11 years of ChES experience and the new addition of AIChE student chapter, we are charged up to take our activities to a new level!

The main motive of ChES is to develop a bond between the department and the students through different academic and non-academic events. Ever since its inception, ChES has been very successful in serving its purpose. Starting from the formal orientation session to our very own technical fest ChemPlus (formerly known as ChemClave), ChES is going to do everything possible to make you comfortable at this home away from home. We have events like Chem-Cricket and Chem-Footer to showcase your athletic skills, a department Freshie night which gives a platform to showcase your extracurricular skills, an industrial visit to enhance your technical knowledge and a lot more. AIChE membership, being a new feather in our hat, will give you an international exposure to the world of Chemical Engineering. Well, that's not all!! We have a whole hunch of amazing stuff awaiting our talented newcomers!!

We'd like to quote ChES as "of the students, by the students, for the students". Every event we have is planned in the interest of our students and your presence is what makes it complete. ChES being a student-run body, will also give you an opportunity to be a part of this team and enhance your personality.

A whole-hearted welcome with commitment is all that is necessary to assure you that you are not alone when you are corning to a new place with lot of opportunities to explore. Today we are here to give you that assurance. We look forward to seeing you on the day of the orientation.

Wishing you all the best and a wonderful campus life here!!
